Dear Sir or Madam,

The above noted application claims the benefit of two previously filed documents: a disclosure document and a provisional application. These items two items appear to be missing from the application package.

To support the inclusion of the Disclosure Document, I have included photocopies of the following items and respectfully request that they be retained and incorporated into my application.

ID	DOCUMENT TITLE	DOCUMENT DESCRIPTION	PAGES
A	"Request for Participation in the Disclosure Document Program"	Cover Letter for Disclosure Document noted below	1
B	Invention Disclosure "Remote Stimulation"	Disclosure Document USPTO Document Number: SV01143 Filing Date: October 26, 2001	2
C	Cancelled Check	Photocopy (front and back) of Check accompanying Disclosure Document submission.	1
D	Document Disclosure Reference Letter	Request to retain above noted disclosure document and include in the application. Filed with Provisional Application on August 5, 2002	1

In closing,

I trust that the these items provide sufficient document to support the inclusion of both

1. the Disclosure Document NO. SV01443 "Remote Stimulation" filed 10/26/2001, and
2. the Provisional Application 60/401/075 filed 08/05/2002

in application 10/630,639 "Remote control of an electromechanical device using a web browser" filed 07/29/2003.

Should additional information be required to retain and incorporate these items, please contact me via phone or email as noted below.

Sincere thanks and kind regards,

Request for participation in the Disclosure Document Program

Inventor: Stephen Edward Decker
Invention: Remote Stimulation

Dear Sir or Madam;

Attached is a copy of a disclosure of my invention "Remote Stimulation" consisting of 2 sheets of written descriptions.

The undersigned, being the inventor of the disclosed invention, respectfully requests that this disclosure be accepted and retained for two years under the Disclosure Document Program.

I have enclosed a $10 check payable to "Commissioner of Patents."

Very respectfully,

Stephen E. Decker

Title of Invention:	Remote Stimulation

Summary Description

The purpose of the apparatus is to enable one or more individuals to be remotely stimulated by one or more individuals regardless of the geographic distance between the parties.

The apparatus is composed of specialized software for personal computers, a communications (e.g. internet) connection, a wireless transmitter, and an enhanced sexual device (e.g. vibrator, mechanical or electrical sexual aid) capable of receiving instructions from a wireless transmitter

Using the apparatus, a man or woman receives physical stimulation from the enhanced sexual device in a manner consistent with the normal use of such a device. The behavior of the device, however, is controlled remotely by a person (or persons) in a different location.

Instructions controlling the behavior of the sexual device are issued from a personal computer, and sent via the internet (or other means) to a receiving personal computer. The receiving computer intern utilizes a transmitter to send the instructions to the enhanced sexual device via 802.11, Bluetooth, or other wireless protocol and its associated frequency. These signals are in turn received and interpreted by the enhanced sexual device. The activity, motion, and or noise then generated by the sexual device is utilized by the person in physical possession of the device in order to sexually, mentally or physically stimulate themselves or another person.

In this manner two (or more) persons can share an interactive physical experience that transcends geographic distance and with greater impact than might be achieved with only verbal or audio-visual communication.

To supplement use of the device, a separate telephone connection can be used to enable a verbal dialogue between the parties involved. The supplemental use of conversation will enable the party generating the signals that control the sexual device to better understand their impact on the person in physically possession of the sexual device.

In addition, video images of either or both parties would further enhance the communication between the parties involved.

It is important to note that multiple enhanced sexual devices and controlling computers can be used in concert.

For example:

- multiple devices can be configured to receive the signals from a single controlling computer;
- a single device can be configured to receive signals from multiple controlling computers; or
- a person could both send signals to control a remote device and at the same time possess a sexual device controlled by another party.

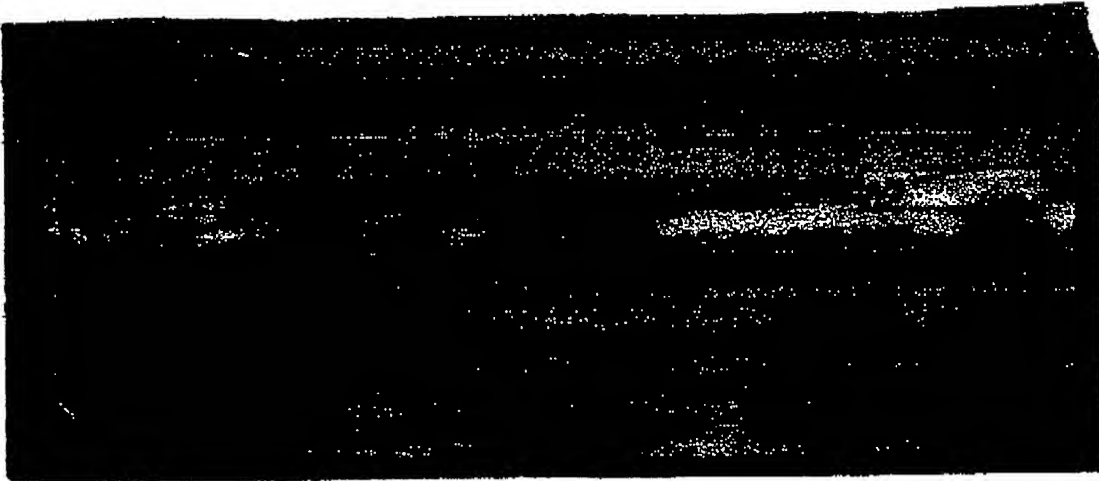

Additionally, a string of series of commands could be created that would enable the sexual device to execute a complex series of tasks or activities.

The apparatus can also be configured to enable solitary use.

For example, larger groupings of commands could be created such that the behavior of the sexual device appeared to respond to a particular song or to act in conjunction with scenes in a movie.

Lastly, software could be created that enabled the sexual device to receive instructions from alternative sources such as a DVD movie being played on the computer. Or alternatively a supplemental device could be attached to a standard DVD player that interprets signals and transmits instructions to the sexual device.
